Crane Rigger Snap- Boston MA

The Boston Fire Department told WBZ-TV the crane was putting up a barge around 11 a.m. when the rigging suddenly snapped. The barge crushed part of a dock and a boat as it fell into the water. Witnesses said the impact shook the ground beneath them and startled those working nearby. Click here to read the full article.

Crane Collapse- Montville, NJ

A crane accident in Montville, New Jersey turned a routine tree trimming job into a chaotic mess when the machine fell onto a house.

Crews were originally there to do a routine tree-pruning job, the first time they were on the job at that property. The crane crashed across the entire house, and the truck it was attached to ended up on its side with the driver's side wheels in the air. Among the damage to the home, it appeared to knock over a chimney. Click here to read the full article

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

---

FROM CRANES101

Happy Thanksgiving from all of us at Cranes101! As you gather around the table this year, remember: just like a perfectly balanced crane, a Thanksgiving feast takes teamwork, precision, and maybe a little extra weight testing (on the dessert table, of course!).
